7.1.3: Facilities for waste management

Maintaining the campus in immaculate shape to provide a welcoming atmosphere for both academic and extracurricular activities is one of the institution's guiding principles. Every stakeholder adheres to a thorough waste management plan and appropriate hygiene standards. Reducing, reusing, and recycling waste produced on campus is the main priority. There are separate dustbins at the college for recyclable, non-biodegradable, and biodegradable waste.

To collect solid trash produced at various locations across the college, green, blue, and red bins have been placed throughout the campus. Compost pits are used to dispose of organic waste, which is then processed and repurposed as manure for campus trees and plants. The water transport system for liquid waste management is routinely checked for leaks in pipes, taps, valves, and other parts, and any that are found are quickly fixed. Students are more prone to minor injuries, hence the physical education department provides a first aid medical kit. Plaster, cotton gauze, and other kit debris are disposed of alongside non-biodegradable waste.

To guarantee there are no environmental hazards, all e-waste, including computers and their accessories, is gathered and disposed of by the approved vendor. No dangerous chemicals or dyes are utilized in the labs. Chemistry labs employ diluted acids, which are then released straight into the environment.

The college's atmosphere is clean and well-maintained due to strict adherence to the green and waste management system.

E-waste management: The Institute of Maharashtra Institute of Pharmacy places a strong emphasis on electronic waste (e-waste) management as a critical aspect of its operational strategy. Over time the institute has successfully handled a significant volume of e-waste, necessitated by the regular upgrading of electronic equipment.
